

April 24, 2019

To Whom It May Concern,

Austin Treherne not only studied with me directly in multiple writing and communication courses at WSU Everett but was a committed member of our multicampus PRSSA club, rising to the level of executive leadership in his final year on campus. In the classroom, during activities associated with this club, and at professional education and networking events, I appreciated his infectious curiosity, his willingness to pitch in on complicated projects and endeavors, his sense of humor, and his overall good will. Austin Treherne has a very bright future ahead of him in public relations or in one of the related communication fields. I urge you to seriously consider what he could offer your agency, company or organization!

Sincerely,

Derek Scheips
Assistant Professor
Edward R. Murrow College of Communication
Washington State University
915 N. Broadway
Everett, WA 98201
derek.scheips@wsu.edu